

October 7, 2011

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

Commission on Food and Drug Administration

10/7/11

88

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.

1. The Commission has received information from the public and the industry regarding the proposed rulemaking for the regulation of the use of the term "bio" in the labeling of food and dietary supplements. The Commission is currently reviewing the information and will issue a decision on the proposed rulemaking in the near future.