SYLLABUS CHECKLIST

PS 675, Internship in Public Affairs (3 credits)
Syllabus

Course Scope and Objectives

PS 675 provides a capstone experience for graduate students that combines work experience in agencies of government (federal, state, local), or non-profit organizations. The internship-based project will be of particular value for students who plan to use the MA in political science as a springboard into careers directly involved in the making, implementation and evaluation of policy. To meet graduation requirements for either the EPP or AP track, students may complete one year of internship work (a total of 6 credits) or they may elect to write a thesis. The 6 credits of internship may be taken in the same agency/organization or in different ones, dependent on consultations between the student and his/her committee. The normal required time for a semester-length internship is at least 15 hours/week in the 14-week semester. In lieu of a master's thesis, internship students will analyze and evaluate her/his

4. The graduate intern will write a 30-40 page paper demonstrating: 1) how the special project has been conducted; 2) the relationship between the student's internship experience and the academic literature of political science in this area.

Grading System

1. The internship instructor will be in regular contact with the intern's supervisor. The supervisor will evaluate the performance of the intern at the end of the semester, and this evaluation will be a basis of the course grade.
2. The instructor will evaluate the log of the intern's activity in the agency and the paper. This will be the second basis of the course grade.
